SALAZAR FAMILY HISTORY

CECELIO SALAZAR

Grandparents

Cecelio Salazar's father was Angel Salazar. Angel Salazar's father was kidnapped by Apaches while he was quite young, but he escaped and later got married. Angel was born Nov. 2, 1832. Angel was Spanish and Mayo or Mayan Indian, other nationalities unknown.

Angel went to California and returned to Mexico where he married Rosalia Lavorine she may have been French and Spanish, and was said to be light complexed with blue eyes. Cecelio Salazar was born Dec. 26, 1851 in Sonora Mexico either in Campas, Hermosia or Bacacchuach in the Northern part of the State of Sonora. He died Aug. 3, 1930 in San Diego.

When Cecelio's mother passed away Angel married again to Maria Castillo, they had two daughters and a son, Margarita, Catalena and Juan. Catalena died in Yuma Arizona in 1960, Margarita died in Yuma also in 1964. Angel Salazar died on Nov. 24, 1914, no futher information about Juan.

Cecelio left Mexico and went into New Mexico looking for Angel who had left Sonora for California during the gold rush. Cecelio finally found his father in Santa Barbara.

Cecelio came to Southern California to work for James Flynn, the owner of the Corte Madera Ranch. He also worked for Charles Hardy.

Cecelio married Joaquina Beltran who lived in Samitayuma near Guatay and Descanso, May 15, 1881.
